SO WHAT

S&P 500: best day since 8 April

Small caps beat large caps

VIX down over 20%, near 20

MARKETS · S&P 500 SECTORS

All 11 sectors rose; industrials and tech led

SO WHAT

Cyclicals on top: industrials +3.8%

Four sectors beat the index

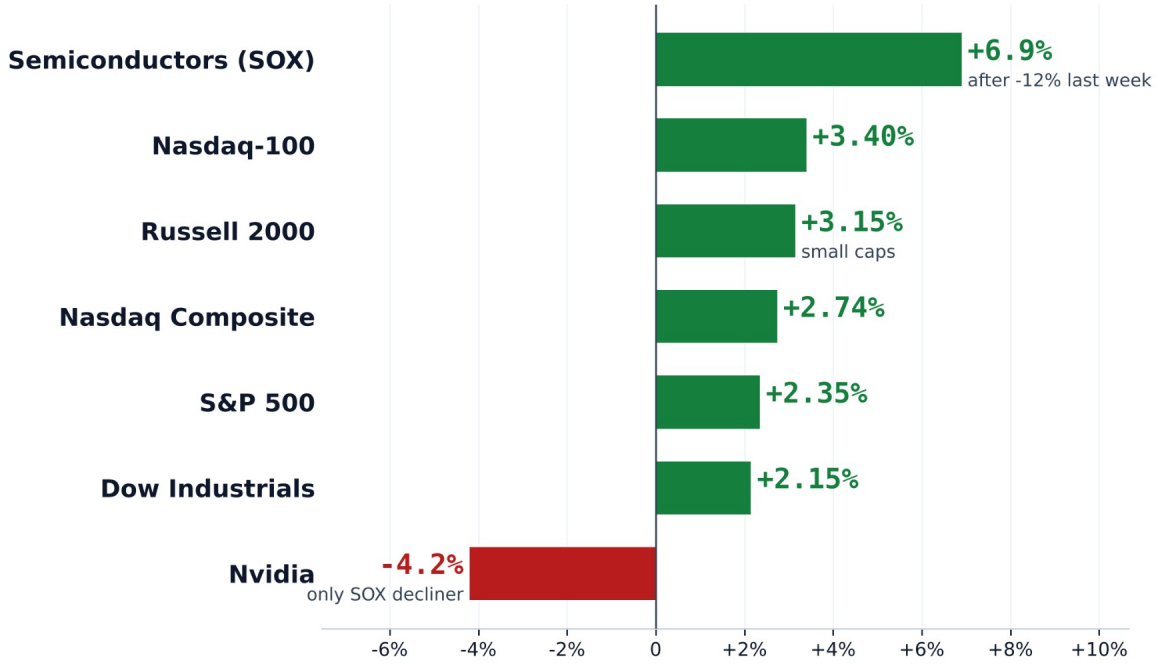

Energy last (+0.5%) as oil fell

Chips bounced hardest, but the rally was broad

ARC RESEARCH | DAILY MARKET UPDATE | WHO LED THE RALLY

Chips bounced hardest, but the rally reached nearly everything

Daily % change at the close, Monday 9 Nov 2026. Semis led on the day; small caps and cyclicals beat the S&P 500 too

Sources: Reuters closing report, 9 Nov 2026 (Philadelphia Semiconductor index, S&P 500, Nasdaq, Dow, Nvidia, sector and breadth counts); TheStreet 4:13pm ET wrap (Nasdaq-100); Investrade closing recap (Russell 2000). Reuters gives industrials and consumer discretionary only as 'more than 3%', so they are not plotted as bars.

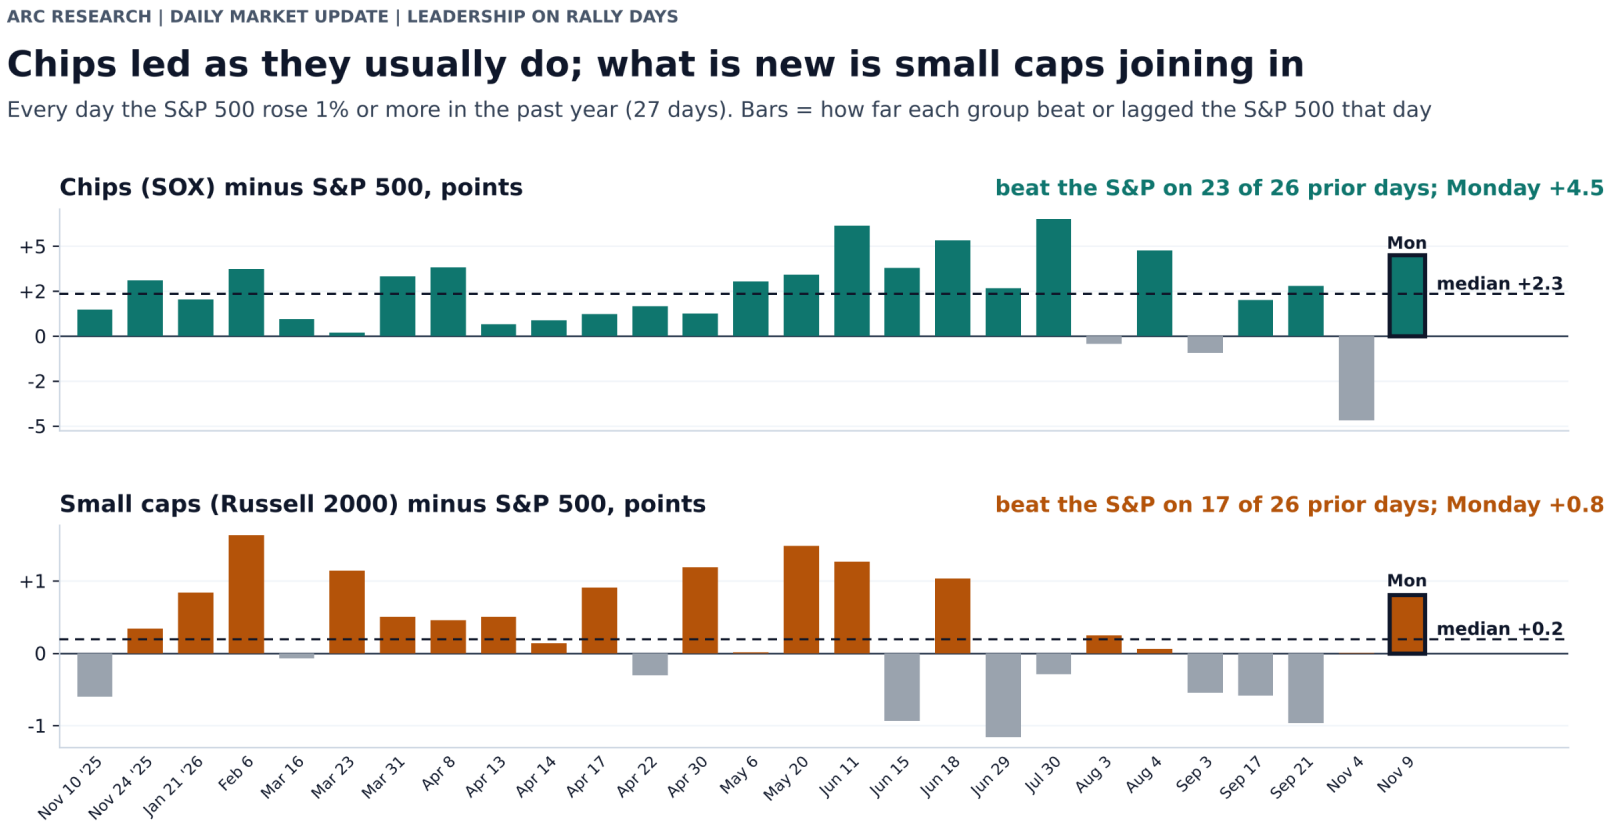

SO WHAT

Not only a chip story: 4 stocks rose per decliner

Top S&P sectors were cyclicals

Dip-buying: SOX –12% last week

Chips usually lead rallies; this one was broader too

Source: Yahoo Finance daily closes for the S&P 500, Philadelphia Semiconductor index (SOX) and Russell 2000, 31 Oct 2025 to 9 Nov 2026. Ours: daily % change of each index minus the S&P 500's, in percentage points; medians cover the 26 days before Monday. Monday 9 Nov is outlined. Monday's SOX close on Yahoo is +6.85%; Reuters rounds to +6.9%.

SO WHAT

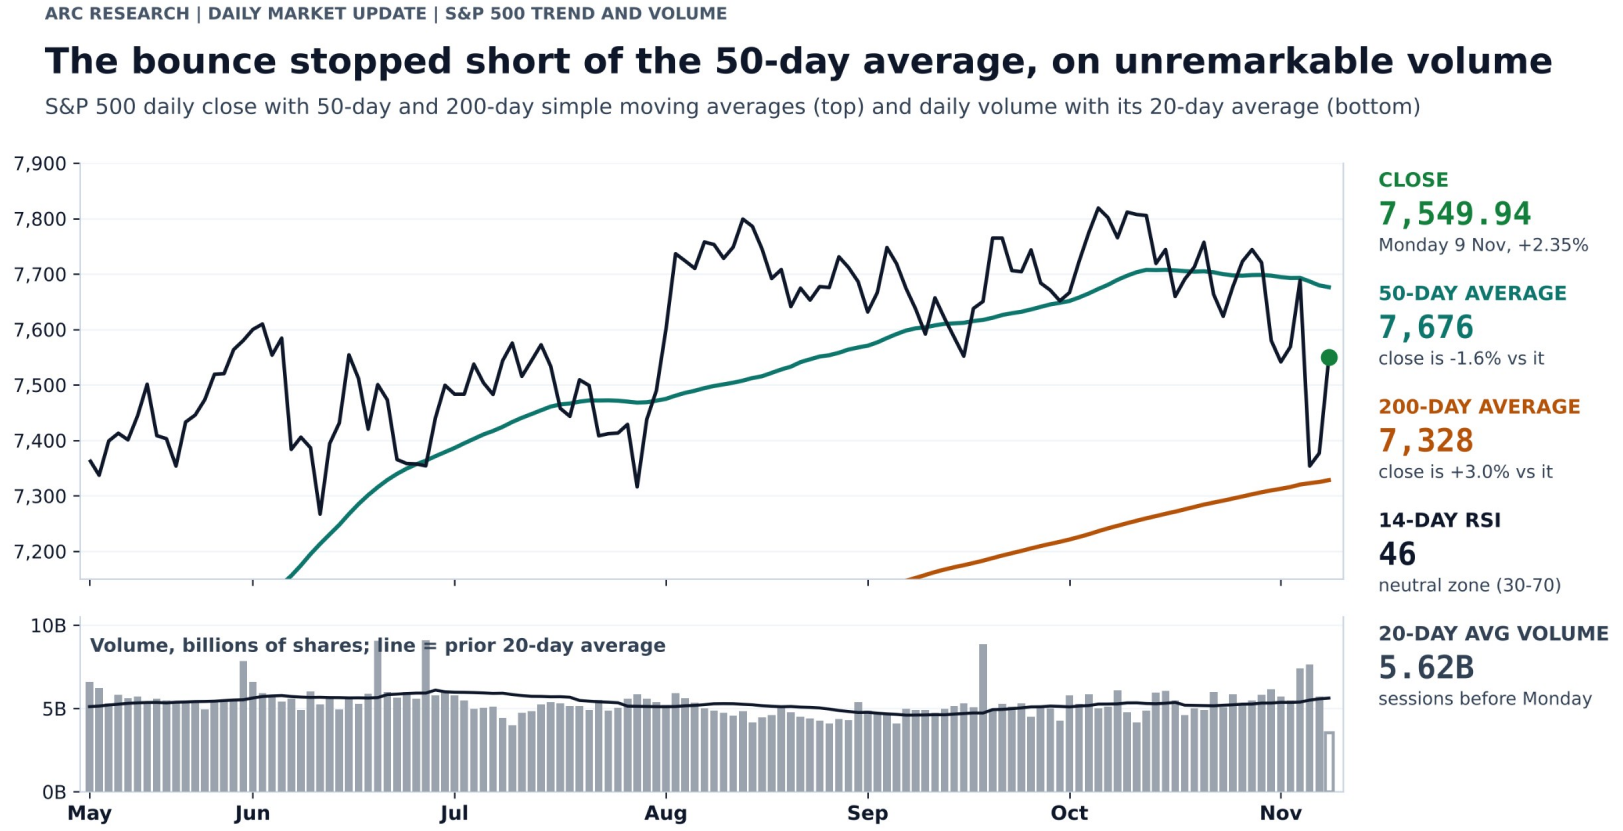

Chips led 23 of 26 prior rallies

Monday: chips again, plus small caps +0.8 pts

Equal-weight S&P +2.27%, near the index

TECHNICALS · S&P 500 TREND AND VOLUME

Still below the 50-day average, on light volume

SO WHAT

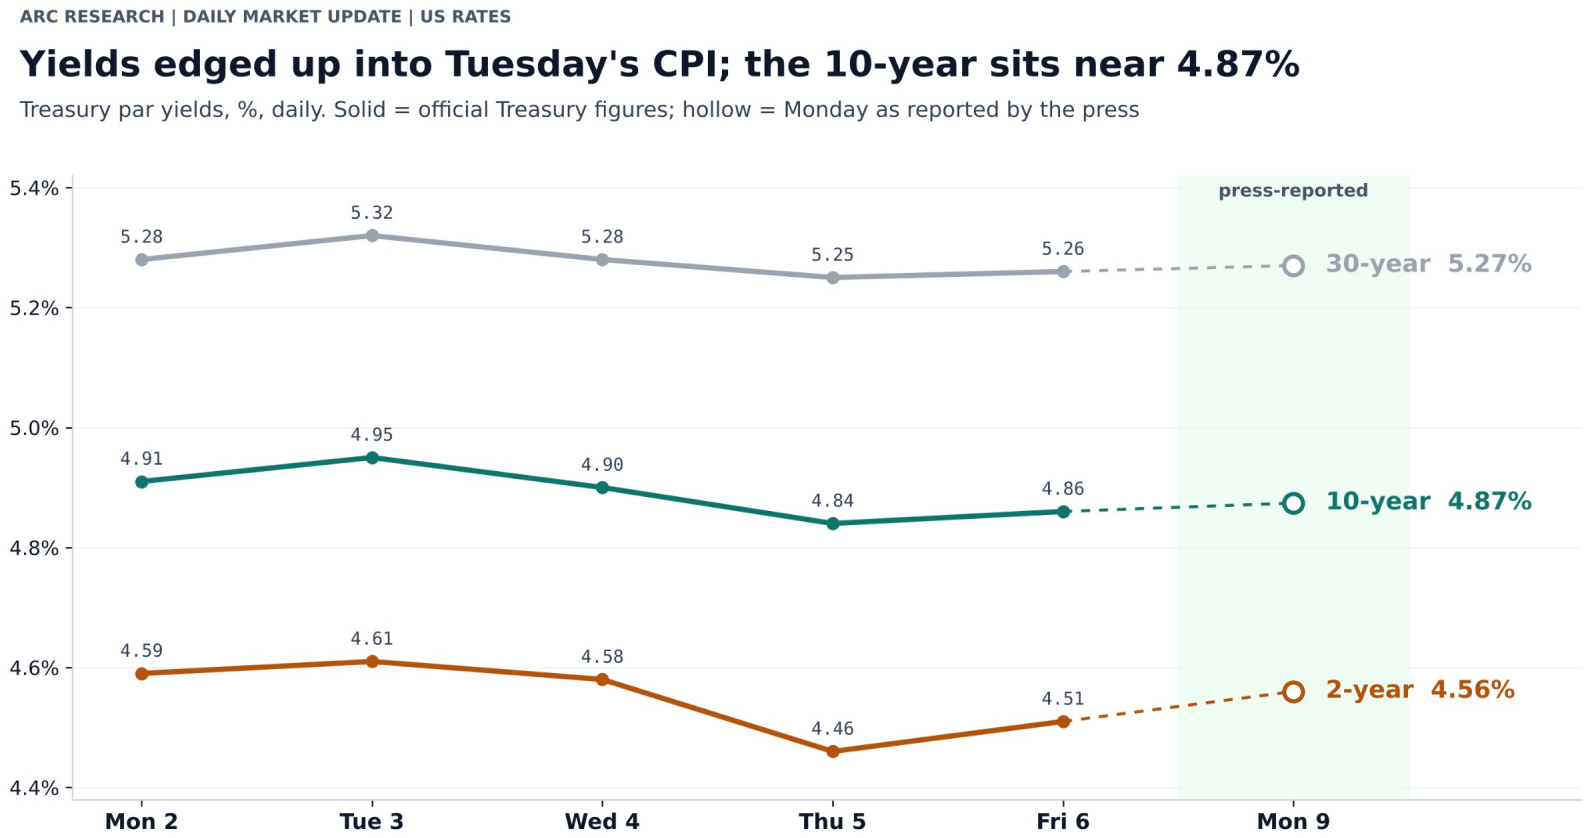

7,676 (50-day) is the level to reclaim

Uptrend intact: 3% above the 200-day

Selloff volume beat rebound volume

MARKETS · US RATES

Yields barely moved while stocks surged

SO WHAT

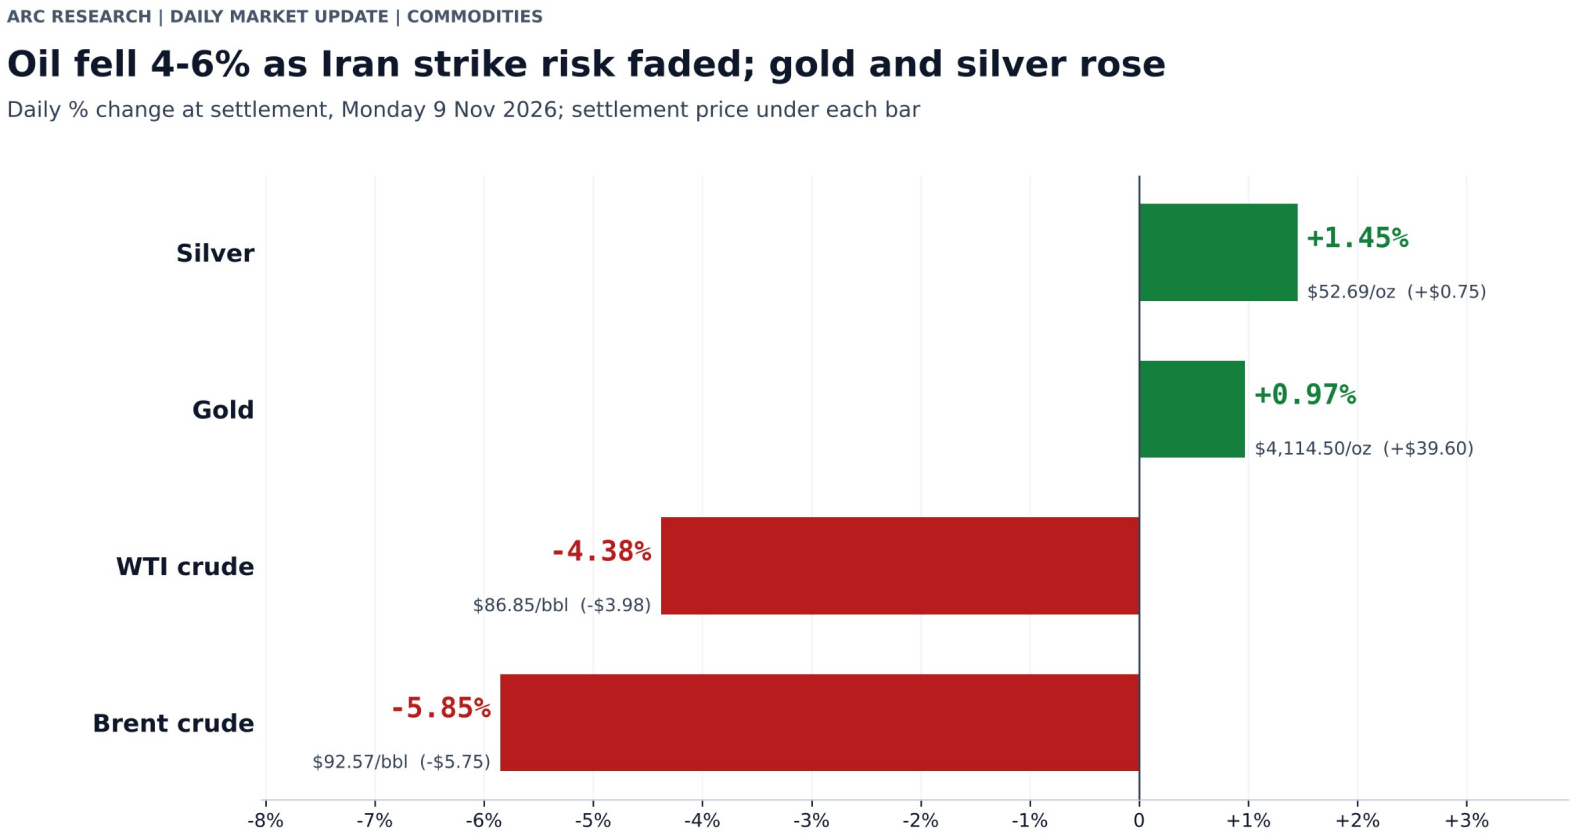

10-year near 4.87%, up 1–2 bp

$58B 3-year sale: 4.627%, cover 2.53

December hike odds above 80%

MARKETS · COMMODITIES AND FX

Oil slid 4–6%; gold and silver climbed

Source: Investrade closing recap, 9 Nov 2026 (WTI, gold and silver are December contracts; Brent contract month not stated; Brent printed as '-$5.75 or 5.85').
Business Recorder (Reuters) put Brent's fall at 4.4%, a different contract or time. Bitcoin and the dollar index: no verified figure found, so not shown.

SO WHAT

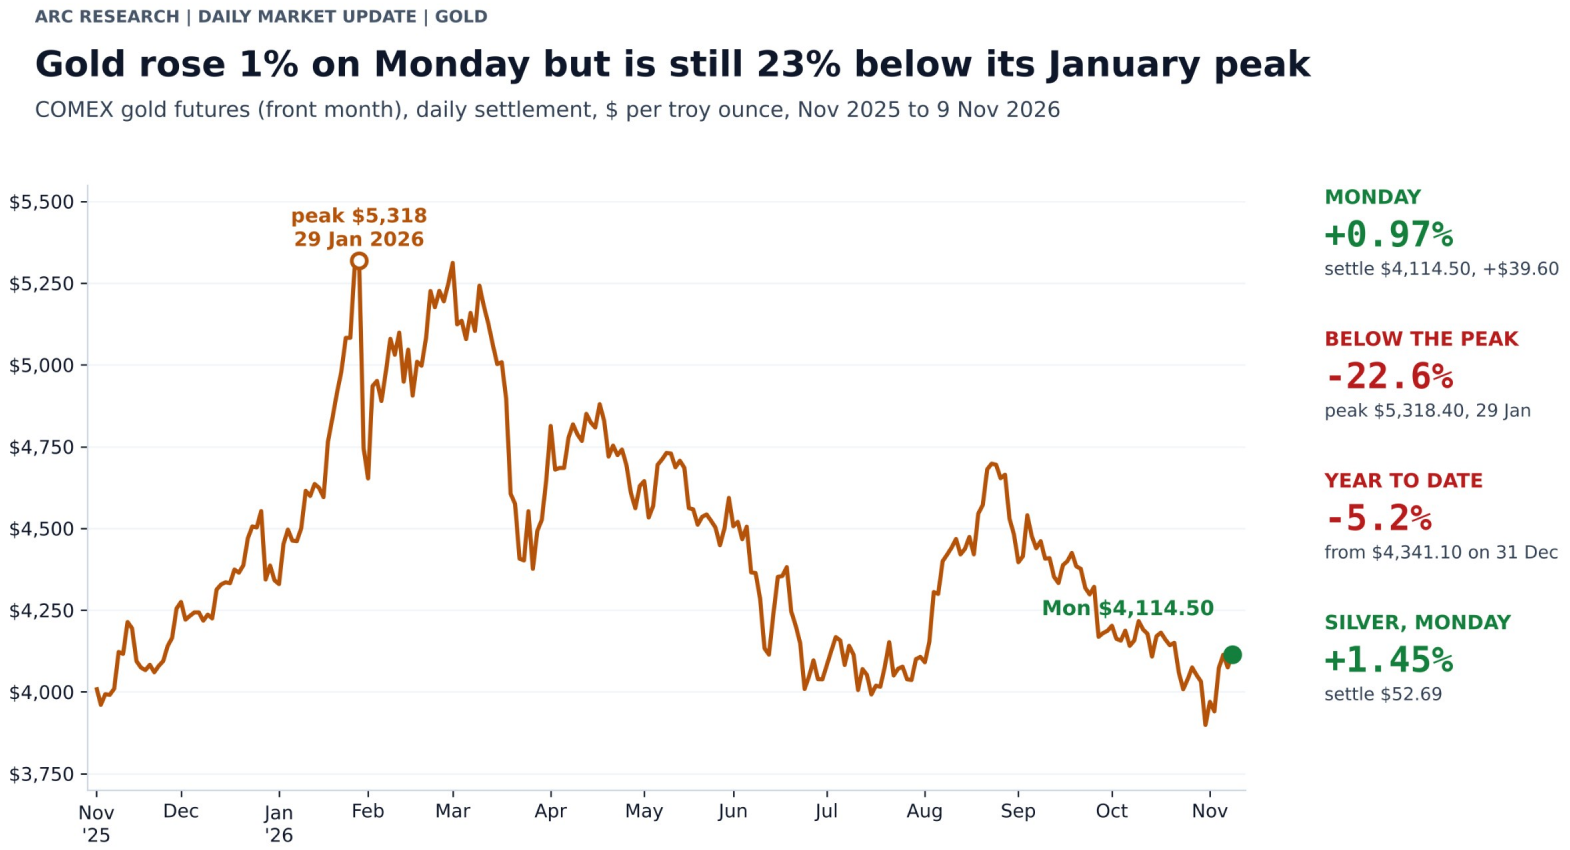

Iran risk premium came out of oil

Gold above $4,100

Dollar softer: ¥158.00, €1.121

MARKETS · GOLD

Gold rose 1%, but is 23% below its January peak

Sources: Yahoo Finance history for GC=F (front-month COMEX gold futures), 3 Nov 2025 to 9 Nov 2026; Monday's settle of $4,114.50 (+$39.60, +0.97%, December contract) matches the Investrade closing recap. Ours: % below the peak = 4,114.50 / 5,318.40 - 1; year to date = 4,114.50 / 4,341.10 (31 Dec 2025) - 1. Front-month series roll between contracts.

SO WHAT

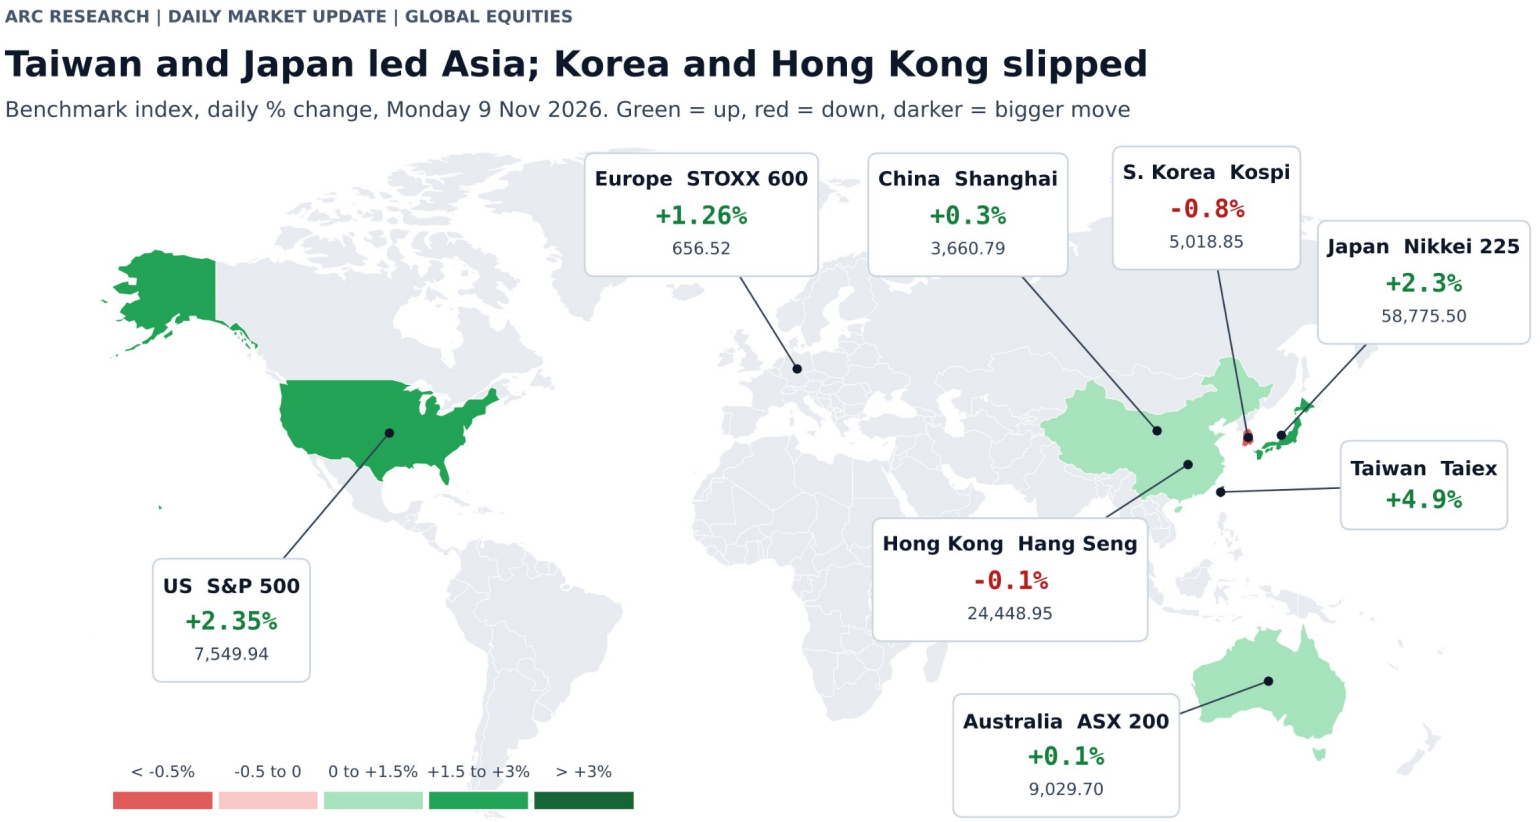

Up with stocks: a softer dollar day

Down 5.2% this year

Bounced off a late-October low

MARKETS · GLOBAL EQUITIES

Chip-heavy Taiwan and Japan led overseas

SO WHAT

Taiex +4.9%; TSMC +4.7%

Europe: banks +3.1%, defence +4.2%

SoftBank −4.2% on blocked ABB deal

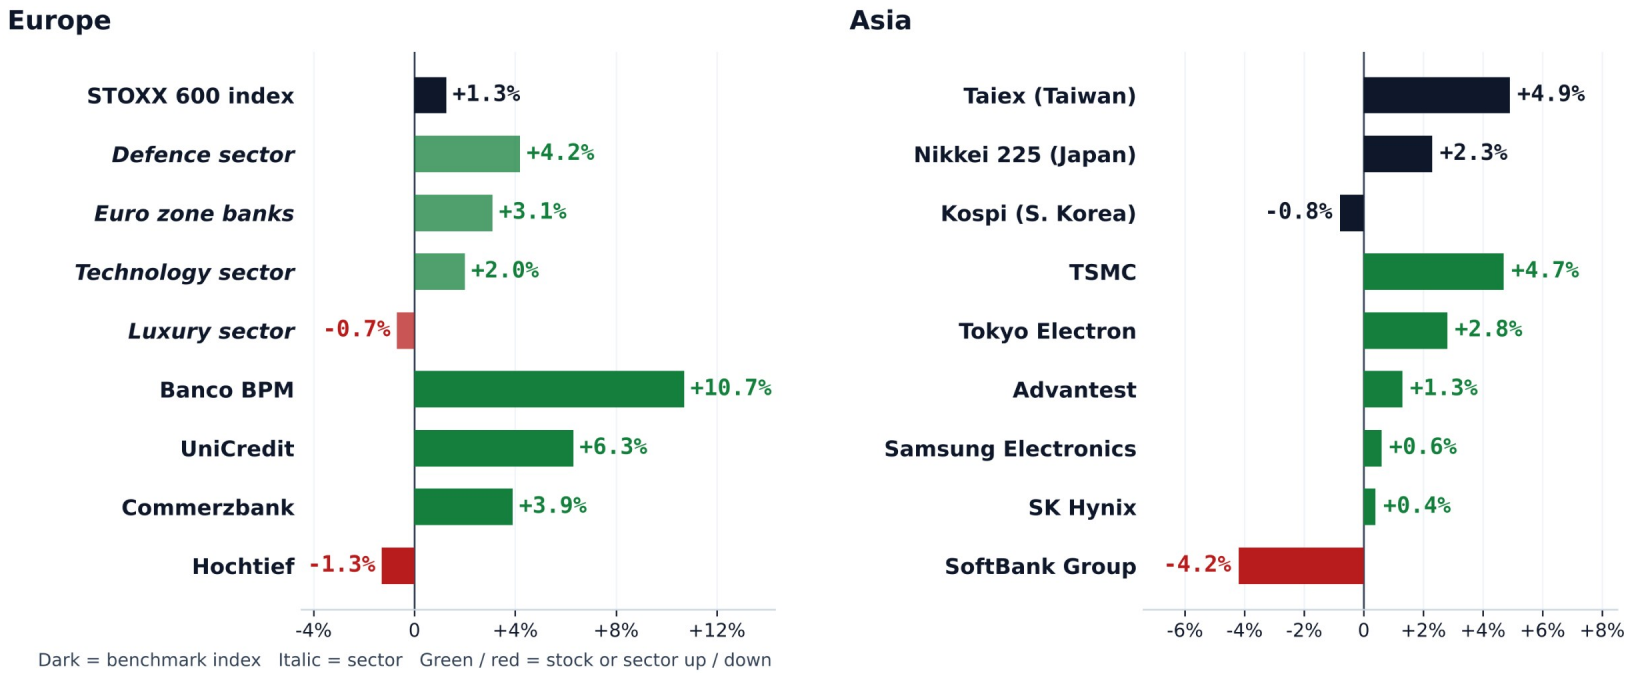

MARKETS · INTERNATIONAL LEADERS

Europe: banks and defence led. Asia: chip makers

ARC RESEARCH | DAILY MARKET UPDATE | INTERNATIONAL MARKETS

Abroad, banks and defence led Europe while chip makers led Asia

Daily % change, Monday 9 Nov 2026: benchmark index (dark) and the sectors and stocks behind it

Dark = benchmark index Italic = sector Green / red = stock or sector up / down

Sources: Business Recorder carrying Reuters (STOXX 600 close +1.26%; STOXX defence, euro zone banks, tech and luxury sector moves; Banco BPM, UniCredit, Commerzbank, Hochtief); AP via KSAT, 9 Nov (Taiex, Nikkei close, Kospi; TSMC, Tokyo Electron, Advantest, Samsung, SK Hynix, SoftBank). AP calls only the Nikkei a close; the other Asian figures are its Monday report.

SO WHAT

Europe’s rally was not tech-led

Asia followed the AI chip rebound

Luxury, SoftBank lagged on China

FUNDAMENTALS · EARNINGS MOVERS

Earnings beats soared; guidance cuts sank

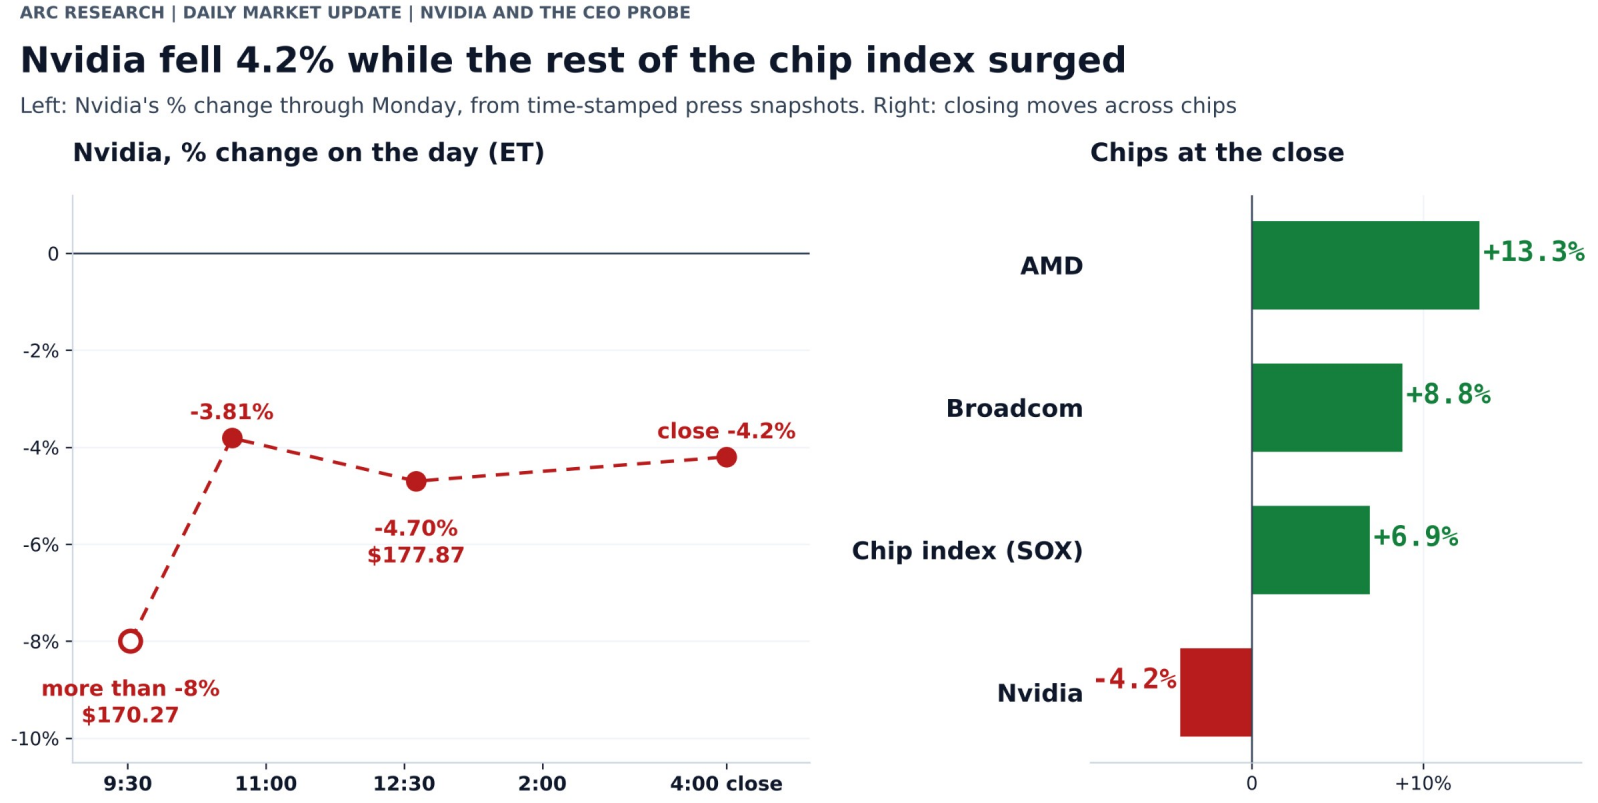

SO WHAT

AI supply chain led the winners

AMD +13.3%: Oppenheimer upgrade, chip rebound

Intraday figures, not closes

Nvidia fell 4.2% as its board probes CEO matter

Sources: ABC News 9:32am ET ('more than 8%', $170.27; plotted hollow at -8 as approximate), TheStreet 10:38am (-3.81%), Yahoo Finance 12:38pm (-4.70%, $177.87), Reuters close (-4.2%, lowest close since 7 April; AMD +13.3%, Broadcom +8.8%, Philadelphia Semiconductor index +6.9%, Nvidia its only decliner). All 9 Nov 2026.
Left panel joins four separate snapshots with a dashed line; it is not a continuous price series.

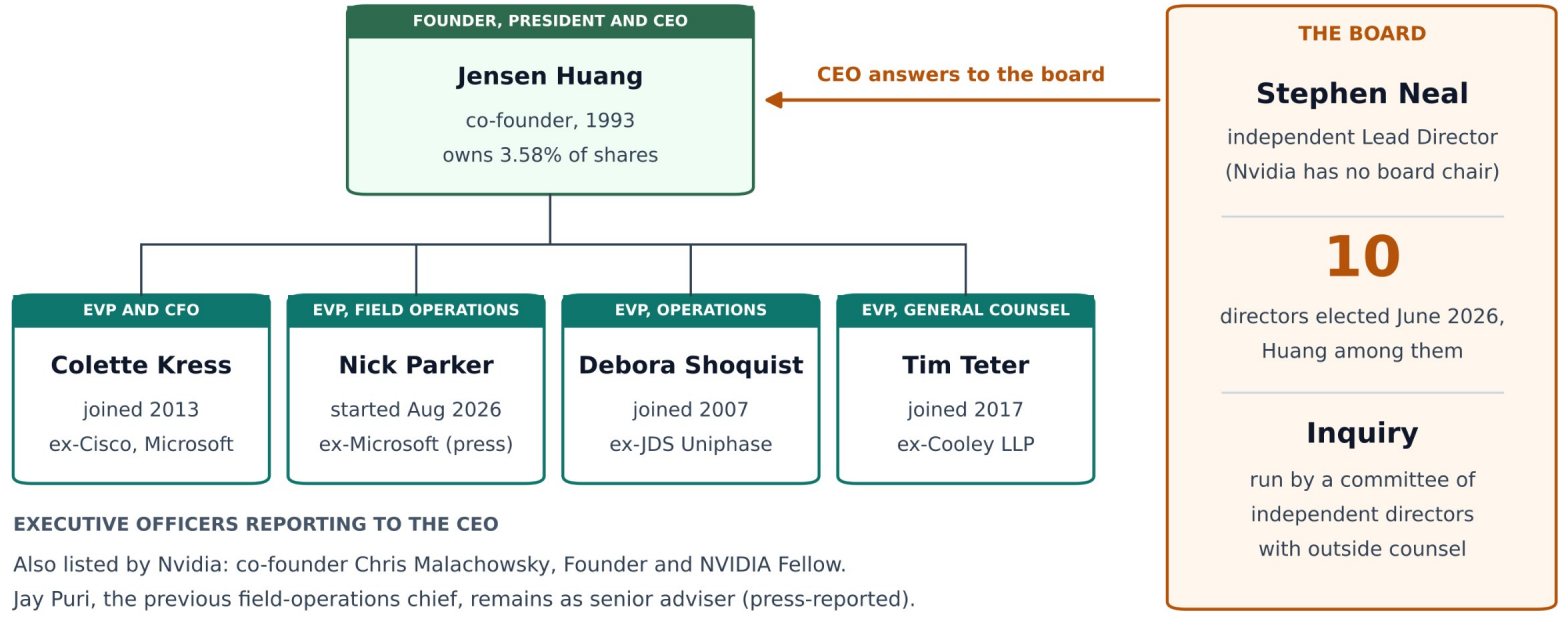

SO WHAT

Board inquiry opened Sunday

Board: no sign secrets were compromised

Key-person risk; lowest close since 7 April

Who is behind Huang: four officers, no named heir

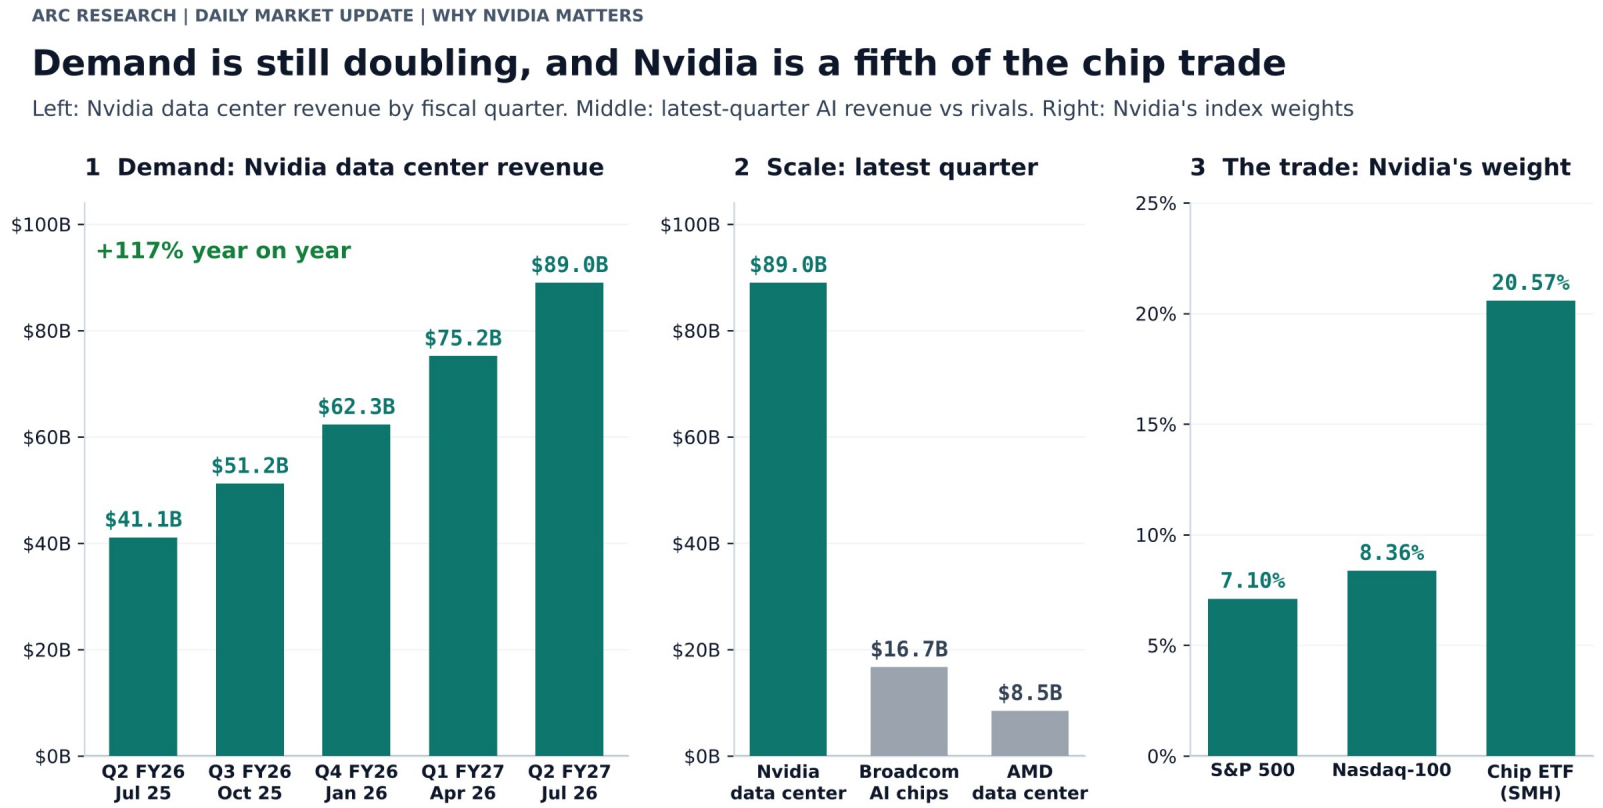

SO WHAT

Huang is still CEO; no interim named

Press floats CFO Kress first

3.58% stake: the board decides

AI chip demand is intact, and Nvidia is its core

Sources: Nvidia quarterly results releases (Form 8-K), fiscal quarters ended Jul 2025 to Jul 2026; Broadcom fiscal Q3 2026 release (AI semiconductor revenue, quarter ended 2 Aug 2026); AMD Q3 2026 release (Data Center segment, quarter ended Sep 2026). Segment definitions and quarter ends differ, so the middle panel is a scale comparison, not like-for-like.

Google widens its TPU lineup against Nvidia

ARC RESEARCH | DAILY MARKET UPDATE | GOOGLE TPUS

Google added two TPU systems: four new ones this year

Google's eighth-generation TPU family: two systems from April, two announced Monday 9 Nov. Drawings are schematic, not to scale

TPU 8t — APRIL

Training frontier models

Google: up to 2.7x training perf. vs prior gen
up to 9,600 chips per pod

TPU 8i — APRIL

Real-time inference for agents

Google: 80% better price-performance
384MB on-chip SRAM per chip

TPU 8i Max — NEW 9 NOV

Huge context windows, densest rack

Two 8i chips in one package
2x compute, SRAM, HBM bandwidth vs 8i

TPU 8tx — NEW 9 NOV

Confidential inference, regulated users

Same silicon as 8t + AMD EPYC hosts
up to 2x lower latency vs 8t

ON THE DAY

Sources: Google blog, 'TPU 8i Max and TPU 8tx', Amin Vahdat, 9 Nov 2026 (all specs and claims are Google's, versus its own chips; no availability dates or prices given); Google Cloud Next announcement, Apr 2026 (TPU 8t, 8i). Stock moves: GuruFocus (Alphabet +3.16% at 10:44am ET, intraday; no verified close); Reuters (Nvidia, Broadcom, AMD closes).

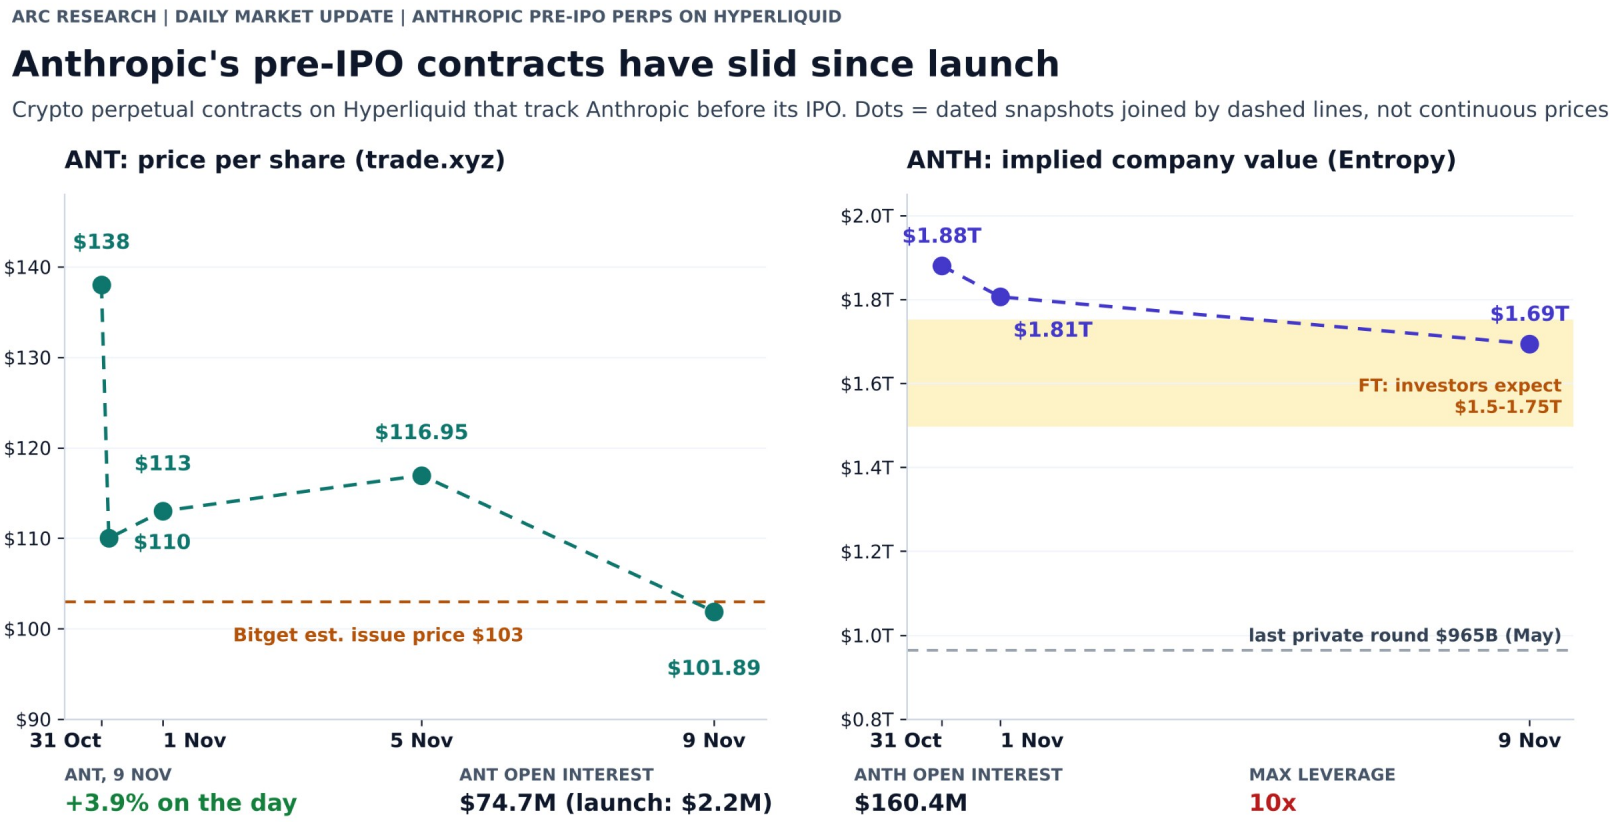

SO WHAT

More competition for Nvidia

AMD wins a role as 8tx host CPU

No dates or prices yet

Anthropic perps: down 26% since launch

Sources: CoinDesk 31 Oct (ANT open ~$138, ~$110 by 11:50am ET; ANTH ~1,880; $965B May round; FT $1.5-1.75T); TokenPost 1 Nov (ANT $113, ANTH 1,806); FourWeekMBA 5 Nov (ANT $116.95; Bitget est. issue price $103); Perpys Hyperliquid snapshots (ANT $101.89, 23:37 UTC 9 Nov; ANTH 1,694, 01:07 UTC 10 Nov). Cash-settled derivatives, not Anthropic shares; Anthropic has not set an IPO price range. Specs: trade.xyz xyz:ANT (one Class A share), Entropy io:ANTH ($1 = $1B fully diluted value).

SO WHAT

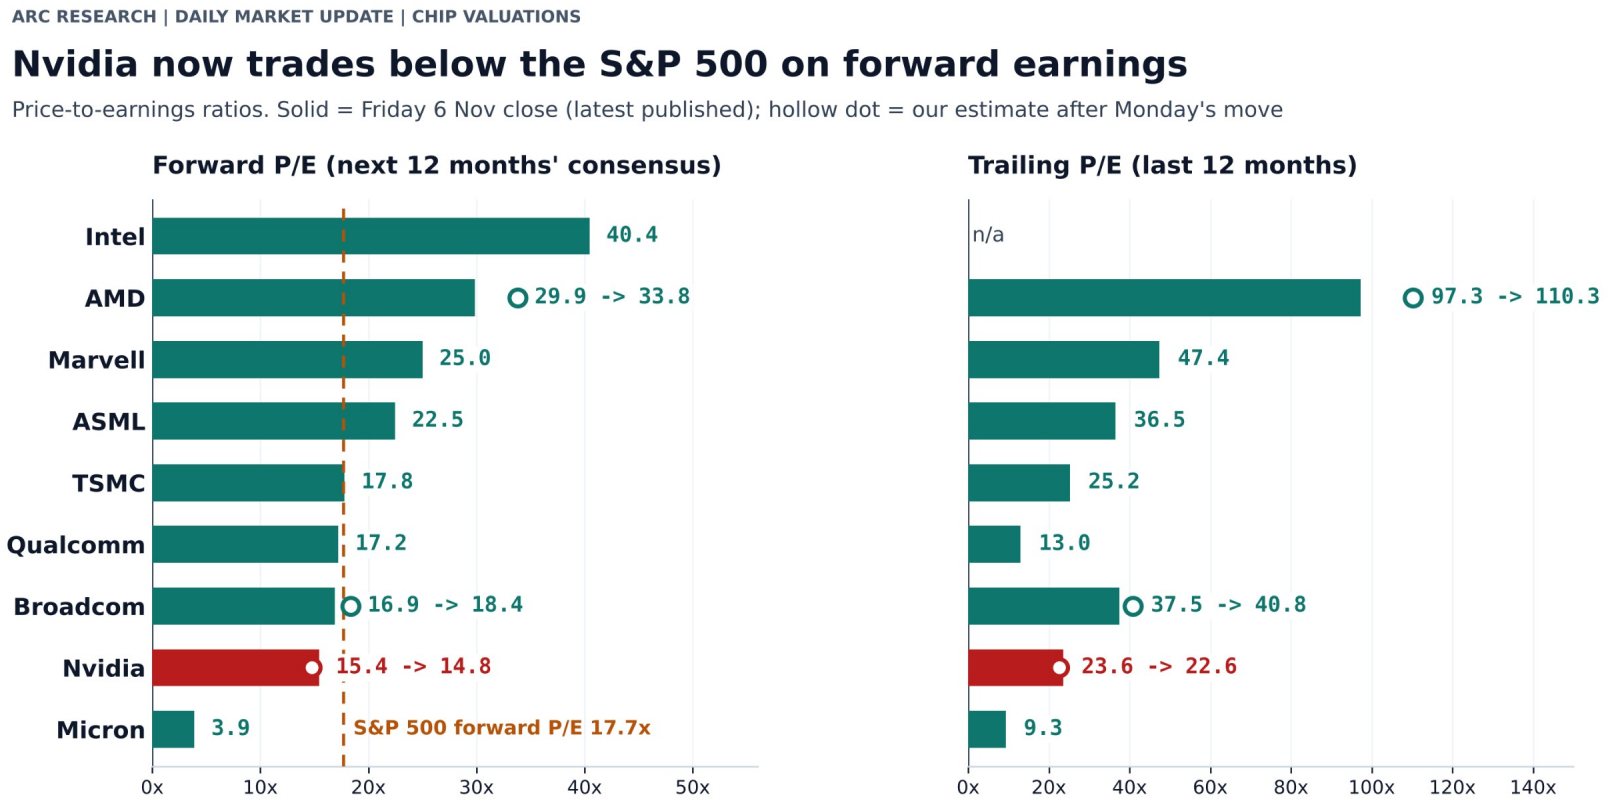

ANT $101.89, below Bitget's $103 est.

ANTH implies $1.69T value

Not shares: 10x leverage, thin books

FUNDAMENTALS · CHIP VALUATIONS

Nvidia is now cheaper than the S&P 500 on forward P/E

Sources: stockanalysis.com statistics pages (prices at the 6 Nov 2026 close; EPS basis not stated); FactSet Earnings Insight, 6 Nov 2026 (S&P 500 forward P/E 17.7 at the 5 Nov close). Hollow dots, ours: Friday P/E x (1 + Monday's % change from Reuters: Nvidia -4.2%, AMD +13.3%, Broadcom +8.8%), assuming unchanged EPS. Other names: no verified Monday close. Intel has no trailing P/E on the source page. Applied Materials is omitted (its page was stale, 27 Oct). Micron's ratios are as published and unusually low.

SO WHAT

Nvidia ~14.8x vs S&P 500 17.7x

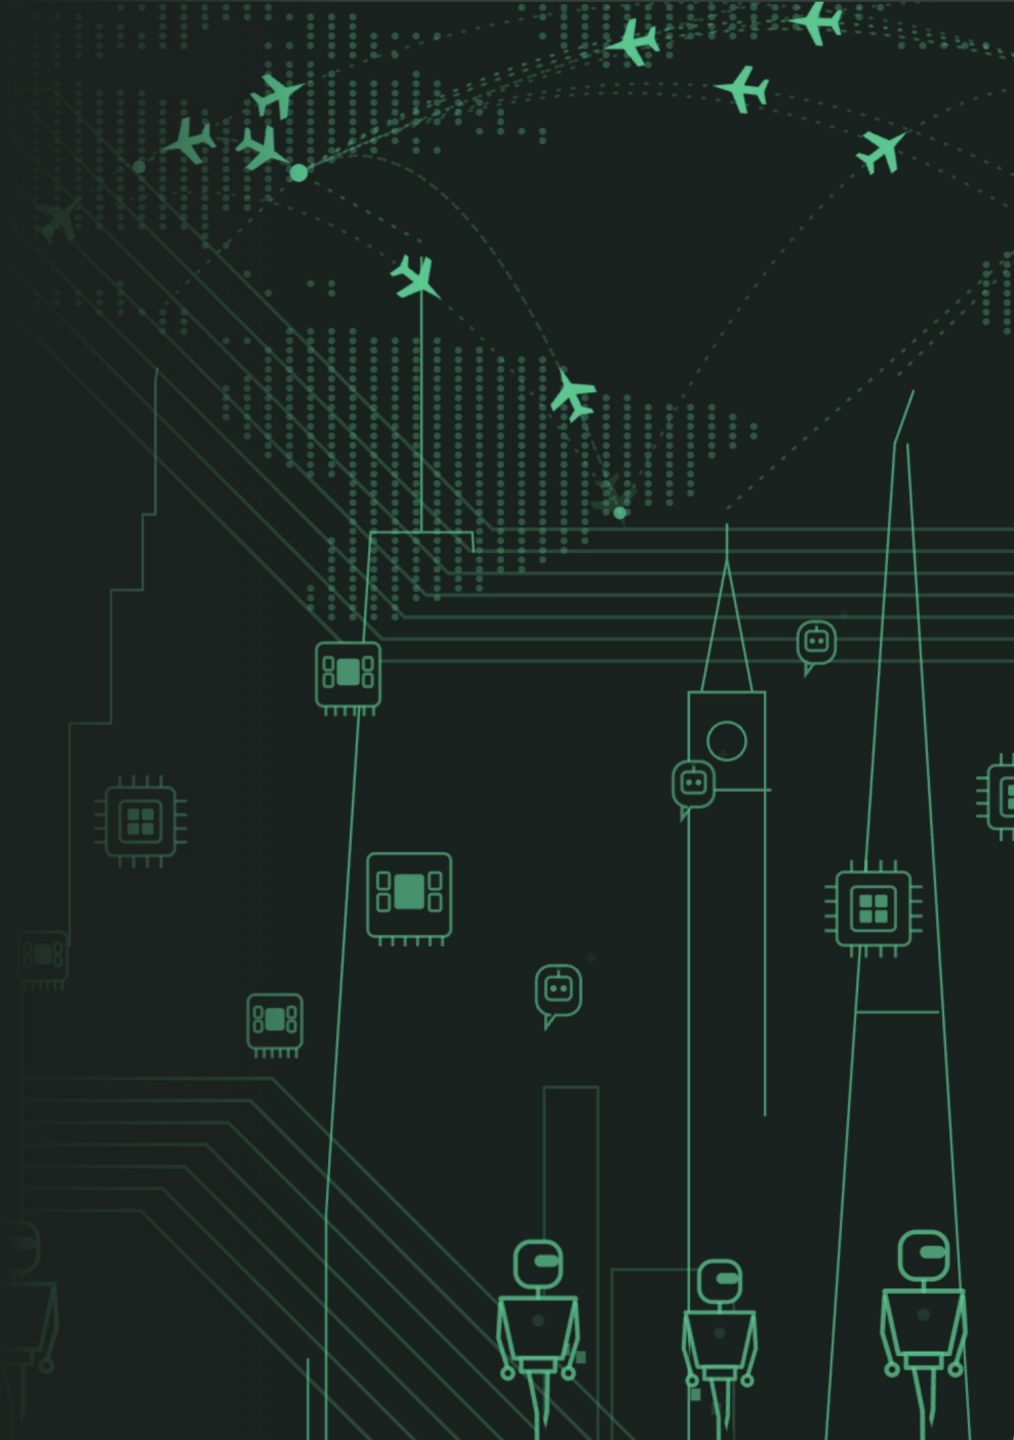

AMD about twice Nvidia’s multiple

Monday’s gap widened: AMD up, Nvidia down
